This weekend saw the commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the Battle of the Atlantic – in isolation, unfortunately, so we could not be together for this important event. However, despite some last minute-issues in REG, with which FMF provided some assistance, two frigates, two MCDVs and three Orca-class training vessels conducted a formation anchorage in Plumper Sound. REG looked particularly good in her WWII paint scheme, a salute to the ships that fought in that battle. There is some fantastic footage of the anchorage online, for example on the RCN and ships' Facebook pages. We will continue to provide support to the ships at sea, and have some work planned in REG after she completes IMSRT this week. Other than that, and other minor support, to other ships, we continue to provide input into Formation planning to prioritize maintenance requirements for when we eventually begin our return to work.	Operations / OCC Lead	Cdr S.
